Southern to Host UMKC In Crucial Homecoming

Queens, kangaroos and Lions will be featured at MSC's basketball homecoming Saturday night, February 7, as Missouri Southern entertains the Fighting Kangaroos of University of Missouri at Kansas City.

For the Southern Missouri Maulers, it's another crucial hardwood happening. The Lions "must" have this one to keep them in the running for a trip to the NAIA regional playoffs in March at Kansas City. In a visit to kangaroo land earlier this year, Southern dropped a 75-68 decision to UMKC. Saturday night R. C. Shipley's Southern junior varsity team also will be featured in a preliminary game with Crowder College of Neosho, Mo.

The queen candidate, select by the basketball team, will be presented to the student body during a pre-game ceremony at 7:45 p.m. The queen also will be crowned then. The candidates for queen are Jane Betebner, Bobbie Noland, Mary Ann Parnell, Judy Prater, Arlene Sinder, Marcy Storm and Vickie Yates.

A dance will be held in the queen's honor after the game in the College Union until 1 a.m. Music will be provided by The Premiers of Coffeyville, Kan.

Rites Held For MSC Instructor

Funeral services were held Monday for Bon O. Brown, 59-year-old associate professor of accounting at Missouri Southern, who died last Saturday at St. John's Medical Center where he was a patient one day.

The rites were held at First Presbyterian Church, with burial in Ozark Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. Brown had lived at 2410 New Hampshire Ave., since August, 1969. Before coming here, he was on the

Southern Roll Takes Spring Dip

The snow's gone. Fall semester finals are history and about 400 Southern students are missing, for one or several reasons. Enrollment for the spring semester stands at 2,708, 24 less than the spring enrollment last year.

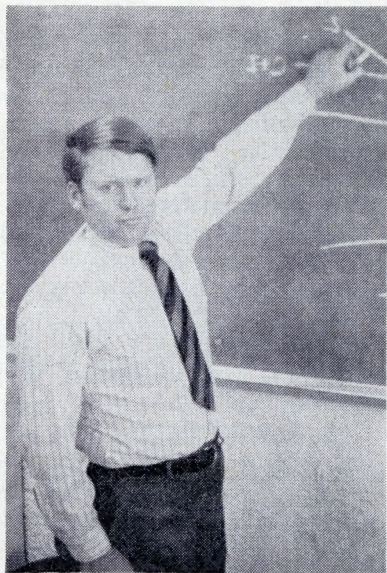

But about 150 additional students were expected to register under the late enrollment plan last week.

Course changes may be made until February 6, according to the registrar's office.

Next break from classes comes March 30-April 3 for Spring vacation. The semester ends May 31 with commencement.

Bachelor of Science in Education degrees dominated the first mid-year commencement exercises Friday night, January 24 at the College Union ballroom. Of the 69 degrees conferred, 34 were BS in education.

Roger Hoyt

MSC Instructor To Seek Seat on State Legislature

Roger Hoyt, a 24-year-old business instructor at Missouri Southern has filed for a seat in the Missouri House of Representatives from Joplin's 135th district, subject to the spring primaries.

Hoyt, a Republican, is seeking the position now held by Leo Schrader, Democrat.

A lifetime Joplin resident, Hoyt joined the faculty at Southern this fall. He's a 1963 Joplin Senior High School graduate and a 1965 graduate of Jasper County Junior College. He earned his BS and MBA degrees from the University of Missouri.

Hoyt was active in campus politics here and at MU, serving on the senate at each school. He also was a member of the Young Republicans, the CCUN (now CIRUNA), a political science organization, Phi Theta Kappa junior college honor fraternity, Delta Chi social fraternity at MU, Circle K and was cochairman of a committee that worked to assure passage of bonds to get Missouri Southern College "on the road."

Hoyt, a bachelor, lives at 2301 Byers Avenue.

Noted Anthropologist In Convocation Today

By Colleen Edwards

Ashley Montagu, noted cultural and physical anthropologist, will be the third convocation speaker of the 1969-70 school term. His lecture is scheduled for this morning at 10 a.m. in the CU Ballroom.

Dr. Montagu was born in London and did his undergraduate work at University College there before coming to the United States to study of essays and articles on anthropology, Dr. Montagu also is either full or joint author of more than 30 books including The Natural Superiority of Women, The Direction of Human Development and The Concept of Race. The fourth edition of Man's Most Dangerous Myth: The Fallacy of Race, considered a classic on the subject, was published in 1964. In Man's Most Dangerous Myth, Dr. Montagu total-lin, and Janice Stenger, Baxter Springs, Kan. Magna cum laude represents a 3.6 grade point average, and cum laude a 3.3 average of a possible four points.

Fourteen BA, 15 BS, three AA and three AS degrees were conferred at the ceremonies.

State Senator Richard Webster, R-Carthage, presented the principal address saying, "thank God for the generation gap." Webster noted that youth involved in another generation gap of the past became the ones who moved the country forward.

The term "generation gap" has been misunderstood, Webster declared. New ideas and new directions evolve from succeeding generations, he added.

"We are looking to you for a new transfusion of the bloodstream of this area," the senator remarked, while urging the graduating class to get into "the flow of the mainstream of America."

Dr. Edward S. Phinney, dean of Southern, presented the class. President Dr. Leon Billingsly conferred the degrees and Fred Hughes, president of the Board of Regents-Trustees, presented diplomas.

As a prelude to the ceremonies, Judy Ardrey, a Webb City senior, sang "Life" and Denise Crosswhite played the organ.

Forms Available For Assistants
At Men's, Women's Residence Halls

Applications for five staff assistants at the two residence halls on campus are available at the offices of Glenn Dolence, dean of men, third floor of Hearn's Hall and Ann Wilson, dean of women, College Union, first floor.

Interviews with prospective staff members will be held in April, Dean Wilson said. The applications call for general information about the individual, contain basic duties and responsibilities of the position and require an autobiographical sketch and specific reasons for wanting the position.

The men's three-story hall will require an assistant on each floor to work with the head resident. Two assistants will be needed for the women's two-story hall.

Applications for head resident, an adult not directly associated with the college, also are being taken.

It's a fulltime job. No assistants may hold outside employment. Dean Wilson indicated assistants will have room and board paid for them or some form of salary will be paid. The assistants will have private rooms.

All applicants must be either a junior or senior and should exemplify high scholastic, leadership, executive ability and personal standards.

Workshops will be held before the semester ends and during the summer.

Applications for the residents at the halls are running heavy with women students and light with men, Dean Wilson said. Forms are available at the offices of each dean. Students will be charged $410 per semester for the room and 20 meals a week in the College Union. Residence fees may be paid in installments.

Placement Interviews Scheduled for Spring

How can a prospective January or June graduate find employment in his respective field easily?

Southern's Placement Office aids graduating students by making available to them on campus, interviews with major corporations and industries. Federal agencies, major companies and educational institutions, who are in need of personnel, come to MSC and interview prospective graduates. Alumni are also eligible for these interviews.

During the months of February, March and April, 19 firms will be visiting MSC for these interviews. They will be held in the Placement Office, located next to Kuhn Hall. Students and alumni desiring an interview may go to the placement Office and register for an interview time, or phone 624-8100, extension 269. Each interview is normally 20-30 minutes. Brochures on most of the firms and institutions are also available in the Placement Office Library.

Listed below are the companies and institutions, the fields of study each wishes to interview, and the types of positions available.

Tryouts Today For Two Barn Theatre Dramas

The third major production of the MSC Drama Department is a fantasy-drama "Blood Wedding," by a Spanish modern playwright. Based on a contemporary newspaper story of a blood feud in a primitive, Spanish village, Garcia Lorca weaves a poetic fantasy of ritual death and peasant folk-lore into a chilling tale of a boy and girl, doomed by their love for each other. In addition to the human characters in the play, death and the moon are personified in acting roles as the agents of death. Music and dance also will be incorporated

Spiva Film Group To Show 2 Flicks On February 10

Two films have been scheduled for showing by the Spiva Art Center Films Society. February 10, "The Last Laugh" and "World of Plenty" will be shown in the Fine Arts Building at 7:30 p.m.

"The Last Laugh" is a 1924 silent film directed by F. W. Murnau and starring Emil Jaunings. This film introduced the idea of the pictorial narrative. But also it was one of the first films to use the moving camera to film whole sequences uninterrupted by cuts, fades or titles. The camera takes on an active function and moves freely to follow or interpret the action.

The second film, made in 1943, is a British documentary. "World of Plenty" was directed by Paul Rotha for the Ministry of Information. It is a timeless survey of the world's food problem.

into this production according to Duane Hunt, the director. Some 15 roles must be filled, ranging in style from the young lovers to character roles of 70 and 80 years.

Tryouts are open to all full-time MSC students not on academic probation. Anyone wishing to try out, who couldn't make it Tuesday, is asked to contact Hunt for an appointment before Thursday.

Another production to be staged in the near future is "The Magic Horn." Senior drama major Pat Pickett will direct this children's play by Charlotte Chorpenning. The setting for the play is the Middle Ages at the castle of Charlemagne. The story revolves around Roland, who, like all of the boys in the kingdom, sets out on a quest. Through his efforts he receives the horn of Charlemagne and destroys the evil sorceress, Fallerina.

Tryouts for this play are today from 3 to 5 p.m.

Green-Gold Day

The Physical Education department is sponsoring the first annual "Green and Gold Day" on campus today. The department hopes to start the tradition of having a color day every year when MSC meets KSC in basketball. All clubs are urged to wear green and gold, sit as a group and yell at the game. A trophy will be awarded to the most spirited group at the game.

Silversmiths Offer Chance For Awards

Reed and Barton Silversmiths have announced the opening of their 17th Annual Scholarship Competition with nearly $10,000 in scholarships and awards.

The competition, which is open now, is Reed and Barton's means of providing worthy students with financial assistance as well as a way of compiling an up-to-date library of American taste. Requirements are to match Reed and Barton sterling silver patterns with leading fine china and crystal patterns. Choices are then compared with those of leading women's magazine editors and the choices which most closely match those of the editors are the prize winners.

There are 110 prizes in all — including one $500 scholarship; a $300 scholarship; a $250 scholarship; three $200 scholarships; and four $100 scholarships plus merchandise awards of sterling, china and crystal worth $75 each — all available to the women on this campus.

The competition is open only until March 31. You may see the actual sterling featured in the competition and obtain your entry blank from E. J. Murray, Chart office.

Gorilla Milk in Lions' Saucer Tonight???

Davis' Wonder Boys Seek Revenge of 85-79 Setback

Southern's razzle-dazzle Lions, fresh from a heart-stopping 68-66 win last Saturday night at the hands of Missouri Western's Griffons, will be out for revenge tonight when they entertain the Gorillas of Kansas State College at Pittsburg in Lion Pride fieldhouse at 8 o'clock.

The Lions of Frank Davis took it on the chin January 8 at Pittsburg in an 85-79 thriller. The Lions are 0-3 against the KSC quint since the border rivalry began last year.

Southern tacked up its 16th victory of the year last Saturday on Greg Fulton's tip-in at the buzzer. A near-capacity crowd saw the Missouri Western Griffons knot the score at 66-all with 53 seconds showing and then chewed their nails as Southern worked for the final shot. After two time-outs and Southern controlling the ball, little Billy Adams took that last shot, a 20-footer, with five seconds on the clock. It didn't swish the net. After bouncing high off the rim for what seemed an eternity, Fulton, the 6-3 senior jumper from Webb City, went high and slapped the ball through.

That win was the fifth straight for Southern, sixth in a row at home and enhanced their chances of getting into the NAIA playoffs in March.

The Lions, one of the top independent teams in District 16, paddled Evangel College, 77-64, at Springfield Thursday, January 29. Consistent Fred "Hat" Hatfield canned 23 points to pace the Joplin roundballers and pulled down 17 rebounds. John Thomas ripped the nets for 18 points and had 16 caroms. Bill Wagner, 6-6 transfer from Evangel, meshed 21 points in his first starting assignment. The Lions took an early lead and never trailed in the contest.

The Lions journeyed to Siloam Springs, Ark., January 24 and manhandled the Golden Eagles of John Brown University, 87-68, giving Southern a sweep of the two-game series with the Arkansans. JBU fell, 79-65, at Joplin earlier this season.

With the Eagles hanging close, the Lions broke loose in the last eight minutes of the first half, outscoring JBU 19-6 and gaining a 44-25 bulge at halftime.

The Eagles never threatened seriously in the second half. "The Hat" garnered the scoring honors for MSC, rimming 21 points. Wagner, in his first appearance of the year, came off the bench and scored 15, with Thomas adding 10. Thomas also snared 18 rebounds for game honors.

With Hatfield and Adams showing the way, the Lions stormed past Southwest Baptist College of Bolivar, 85-71, in a home encounter Thursday, January 16.

The win halted a three-game losing string for Southern. Hatfield pumped in 19 points in the first half and finished with 25. Adams, 5-9 ball-handling wizard, drilled 22 points, his best performance of the season. The Lions took a 40-33 halftime lead, but the scrappy SBC quint came back early in the second half. The Bearcats remained close until Southern, leading 60-52, hit a spree of nine straight points to put the game out of reach for SBC.

Winning wasn't in the cards for Southern on Monday, January 12 as Langston University clipped the Lions, 88-86, utilizing a hot hand at the charity stripe. The Oklahoma hosts connected on 32 of 41 free attempts while Southern hit 16 of 24 free shots. The loss was the third straight for Missouri Southern.

Hatfield again paced the Lions with 28 points. He was followed by Fulton, 12 tallies and Ray Krogh and Adams had 11 apiece. The Lions trailed, 45-41 at intermission, but rallied in the second period to take a brief 75-70 lead. The hosts regained the lead, 88-82 late in the contest before the Lions closed the gap to two points on late fielders by Hatfield and Krogh.

Evangel Transfer Joins Lion Basketball Squad

Gloria Pedersen
Associate Editor

Bill Wagner is a sophomore transfer from Evangel College, Springfield. The 6-6 center-forward enrolled at Missouri Southern for the fall semester but was ineligible to participate in basketball the first semester due to National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic rules. According to the rules, a player is considered ineligible for one semester after transferring from one college within the NAIA to another.

A native of Republic, Missouri, Wagner boasts an impressive high school sports record. He played varsity basketball three years and during his senior year was named to the first team All Conference, honorable mention All-State, and honorable mention All Ozark. As a freshman in college, he received honorable mention in All-District (NAIA). Wagner also is a track fan and participated in pole vaulting competition.

In high school Wagner averaged 26 points and 16 rebounds per game. His freshman college record was 23 points and 10 rebounds each game.

Wagner said he likes basketball because "It's a good game — competitive and rough." He decided to play basketball in college because he "happened to be good enough in high school and received several scholarship offers" when he graduated. He left Evangel because he "didn't like the school."

Wagner said he's glad he decided to transfer to Missouri Southern. "I like the town and I like the school in general. I've just met a lot of nice people."

There is nothing Wagner particularly dislikes about basketball except for one thing. "I wish they hadn't done away with the dunk shot because it takes away some of the crowd pleasing part of the game, and it's a lot easier than blowing a layup."

Wagner, who is 19 years old and married, also plans to go out for track at Missouri Southern this spring. In the future he wants to coach in high school and possibly in college.

Division II vs. Division III.

Persons interested in entering teams in men's volleyball and women's basketball should pick up entry forms and file them before Feb. 17. Entry forms are available at the Physical Education department, Coach Dennis Darnell said.
